SUNDAY Bulletin

OUR WILL IS THE DOORWAY IN WHICH SATAN ENTERS!

*NUESTRA VOLUNTAD ES
LA PUERTA EN LA QUE ¡SATANAS ENTRA!*

by Fr. Marlon Atendido

The theme of the liturgy this Sunday centers on Christ who conquered Satan. That evil is overcome by Christ. The first reading today tells us of the attitude of everyman after committing sin and how God deal with sinners. And in the second reading St. Paul tell us that suffering can be overcome by the hope on the Risen Christ.

Like Jesus in the gospel, people will try to destroy us or damage our reputation. Yes, even if it is intentional or not! Yet, even at times our superiors want to put us on ice or on the shelf. But we should not allow it to become a reason to ask for a change. Because wherever we go, we will always take ourselves with us. However, a change of place does not always help solve a problem. Nevertheless, we should not worry, if we are not appreciated or like by people or those in authority over us. We will never ever live up to their expectations. Rather, we should leave it up to God to decide for us. And learn to take every stone they throw at us as a steppingstone and not as stumbling block. A man who crosses a river can stumble his foot against such stone and fall into the water, but he can also use the same stone as steppingstone and walk across the river safely.

This is how our Lord, overcome evil! The devil would like to harm us, but he cannot, unless we give him the chance to bite our little finger and by doing so, he could literally grasp our whole hand. "The devil is like a rabid dog tied to a chain: beyond the length of the chain, he cannot seize anyone. And you: keep at a distance. If you approach too near, you let yourself be caught. Remember that the devil has only one door by which to enter the soul...the will." -St. Padre Pio

* * * * *

El tema de la liturgia de este domingo se centra en Cristo que venció a Satanás. Ese mal es vencido por Cristo. La primera lectura de hoy nos habla de la actitud de cada hombre después de cometer pecado y cómo Dios trata con los pecadores. Y en la segunda lectura San Pablo nos dice que el sufrimiento puede ser superado por la esperanza en Cristo Resucitado.

Como Jesús en el evangelio, la gente intentará destruirnos o dañar nuestra reputación. ¡Sí, incluso con intención o sin ella! Sin embargo, incluso a veces nuestros superiores quieren congelarnos o dejarnos en el estante.

Pero no debemos permitir que esto se convierta en un motivo para pedir un cambio. Porque vayamos donde vayamos, siempre nos llevaremos con nosotros. Sin embargo, un cambio de lugar no siempre ayuda a solucionar un problema. Sin embargo, no debemos preocuparnos si no somos apreciados o agradados por las personas o por aquellos que tienen autoridad sobre nosotros. Nunca jamás estaremos a la altura de sus expectativas. Más bien, deberíamos dejar que Dios decida por nosotros. Y aprender a tomar cada piedra que nos arrojen como un trampolín y no como un obstáculo. Un hombre que cruza un río puede tropezar con esa piedra y caer al agua, pero también puede usar la misma piedra como trampolín y cruzar el río con seguridad.

¡Así es como nuestro Señor, vence el mal! Al diablo le gustaría hacernos daño, pero no puede, a menos que le demos la oportunidad de modernos el dedo meñique y al hacerlo, literalmente podría agarrar toda nuestra mano. "El diablo es como un perro rabioso atado a una cadena: más allá de la longitud de la cadena, no puede agarrar a nadie. Y tú: mantente a distancia. Si te acercas demasiado, te dejas atrapar. Recuerda que el diablo tiene una sola puerta para entrar al alma... la voluntad". -Santo. Padre Pío
